

Role Overview

The Natural Catastrophe Analytics Manager will report directly to the Natural Catastrophe Exposure Management Lead, playing a key role in building and enhancing a best-in-class exposure management framework across Sompo. This position will contribute significantly to delivering impactful, actionable analytics that inform risk managers and business leaders.

The role focuses primarily on assessing and managing natural catastrophe risks across multiple lines of business, supporting effective catastrophe risk mitigation for the company.

Responsibilities include:

- Analyse and monitor natural catastrophe metrics, including producing, maintaining, and refining group reports.
- Operate and optimise exposure management tools, seeking opportunities for automation to reduce manual intervention.
- Interpret and manage the integration of ceded contracts within exposure management tools.
- Collaborate with various business stakeholders, responding to ad-hoc requests by manipulating data from exposure management tools.
- Provide high-quality input on analytical projects, delivering insights and recommendations to the business.
- Mentor junior team members and share knowledge across the exposure management team.
- Support the Natural Catastrophe EM Lead, Group Exposure Management team, and broader Group Risk function as needed.

Skills & Experience:

- 6+ years of experience in exposure management, natural catastrophe risk analytics, or related fields, with multi-line business reporting experience.
- Advanced proficiency in SQL and MS Excel; experience with Python, Power BI, and/or Julia is a plus.
- Strong programming skills for tool creation, optimization, and process automation.
- Extensive experience with third-party natural catastrophe models, particularly RMS RiskLink (Risk Modeler experience is a plus).
- Technical or analytical background, especially in natural hazards, is an advantage.
- Experience with man-made and systemic risks is beneficial.
- Ability to interpret complex data and provide actionable insights despite uncertainty or incomplete data.
- Certified Specialist in Catastrophe Risk (CSCR) or equivalent preferred; CCRA (RMS) or CEEM (AIR) certifications are beneficial.
- Strong teamwork, communication, organisational, and problem-solving skills.
- Pragmatic approach with intellectual curiosity.
